More people read the comics than any other part of the newspaper. The history of the comic sheet is also the history of the Sunday Newspaper and more people read the Sunday paper from cover to cover than any other paper during the week. The over worked business man as well as the office boy both take time out to read the comics. To say which comic page is read more than any other would be hard indeed. The first comic character introduced was "The Yellow Kid" created by Richard F. Outcault. The oldest panel of today is the Katzenjammer Kids; it has been running since 1896 with hardly a stop in that time. Here and There

NEWFOUNDLAND'S FUTURE

The war brought a wave of prosperity to Newfoundland. Canada spent 5 million dollars on bases. U. States spent 300 million dollars and employed so many Newfoundlanders that the normal income was doubled to $200 per person. To western Canadians this per capita income may appear small but it has freed this rocky island from financial dependence. In 1934 they went bankrupt and were taken over by Great Britain who placed them under a commission government of 6. Britain promised the people independence when they got on their feet. Last year they had a budget surplus and now are seeking a new form of government.

They have 4 alternatives: self government, confederation with Canada, keeping their present commission government or having a commission government made up of Newfoundlanders only. Many of the Islanders will tell you that they would like to join the United States. The Islands new importance in the world comes from the huge air bases which act as a needles eye for European transport. This will increase and promises a more ample and steady income to the people.

It is believed that Britain would like to be free of the island because of the financial liability. There is no popular demand in Canada for a union with Newfoundland but the Dominion government is willing to meet delegates and discuss its possibility.

United States is very interested in Newfoundland's future. Air commerce, defense and huge investments there create this.

Newfoundlanders know that their soil will never give them a decent standard of living so they must depend upon their forests, mines and fishing grounds and hope that huge sums will continue to be spent on air and mining development.

OCCUPATION FAILURE

The occupation of Germany, whatever else may come of it has had two bad effects. The German economic system has collapsed and the allies have been put at cross purposes. All the occupying nations have bungled. Their plans were not matured, their aims have been different and now they are ready to fight each other over the occupation terms for Germany.

As long as Germany is not producing the Allies must feed them. If this continues over a period of years the effects will be serious.

MADE IN CANADA

An Urgent Problem

AUTHORITIES IN AGRICULTURE are of the opinion that the importance of soil conservation cannot be overestimated in Canada today. That the Dominion government is fully aware of the serious nature of this problem is demonstrated by the extensive work which has been undertaken under the P.F.R.A. in many districts in Western Canada. In addition, there are many organizations which have recognized the need for action in this matter and a great deal of valuable information has been placed at the disposal of Canadian farmers. Reliable advice has been made available through provincial departments of agriculture, district agricultural representatives, agricultural magazines, universities and numerous other sources, and farmers who have problems of soil erosion have the advantage of these services in combating them.

Cash Income Is Reduced

A short time ago the Royal Bank of Canada published an interesting and informative article on the subject of soil conservation and that article has been followed by a pamphlet on the same subject written especially for farmers. Entitled "Making Money by Saving Soil" the booklet deals with many interesting aspects of the problem of soil erosion and the methods of counteracting this grave menace to Canadian agriculture. Among other things, it deals with the subject of cash income from farm products. During the first six months of this year, the writer states cash income was reduced by 50 million dollars for Saskatchewan farmers, 33 million dollars for the farmers of Alberta, and seven million in the province of Manitoba. This reduction is not attributed entirely to lack of soil conservation, but it is pointed out that in North Dakota a survey of 197 farmers revealed that 271,000 more bushels of wheat had been produced on 3,000 less acres of land after measures had been taken to combat soil erosion.

A Commendable Public Service

It is admitted that soil erosion is just one factor determining the success or failure of a season's crop. Wind, moisture, frost and similar forces are beyond the control of the farmer, but the conservation of his valuable top-soil is something which he can control and it may have a great bearing on the cash returns for his year's work. The concluding paragraph of the pamphlet mentioned above says: "The frightful force of soil erosion is demanding immediate attention in every part of Canada. Any large scale project needs education, and children, growing up to their inheritance, should be trained in school, through textbooks and motion pictures, to awareness of what is going on. Today's struggle by Canada's farmers is no flash-in-the-pan, ending in another beginning of the cycle of decline. Besides preserving their land today for their own benefit, and as an inheritance for their children, they must see that their children are taught how to continue the good work." In publishing information and advice on this important subject the Royal Bank is performing a most commendable public service.

SMILE AWHILE

An old farmer and his wife were standing before their pigsty looking at their only pig, when the old lady said: "Say, John, it will be our silver wedding anniversary tomorrow. Let's kill the pig."

John replied with disgust: "What's the use of murdering the pig for what happened 25 years ago?"

Hubby: "Isn't dinner ready yet? I have a good mind to go to a restaurant."

Wife: "Well, please wait ten minutes."

Hubby: "Will dinner be ready then?"

Wife: "No, but in ten minutes I can change my dress and go with you."

"Lend me five pounds, old man," said the first man.

"Lending," said the second man, sentimentally, "often spoils friendships, and ours is worth more than five pounds."

"All right—make it ten."

Customer: "It's the old story, Mr. Jones. The woman always pays, you know."

Grocer: "Well, if you had a look through my books you'd see that some of them don't, Mrs. Smith."

"I don't like the look of that halibut," said the lady customer.

"Lady," asked the market man, "if it's looks you're after, why not buy gold fish?"

Little Willie, after an absence of two days, arrived back at school.

"Didn't your mother write a note?" asked his teacher.

"Yes, ma'am, but I forgot to bring it," replied Willie.

"Well, young man," went on the teacher, "why were you away?"

"I don't know. I didn't read the note."

Month after month a firm sent its bill to a customer and finally received this reply:

"Dear Sir: Once a month I put all my bills on the table, pick five at random and pay these five. If I receive any more reminders from you, you won't get a place in the shuffle next month."

"Here comes the parade. Where's Alice?"

"She's upstairs waving her hair."

"What's the matter, can't we afford a flag?"

"Now, my son," said the father, "tell me why I punished you!"

"That's it—first you pounded the life out of me, and now you don't know why you did it."

Advice Given For Care Of Infants

Common Sense Can Prevent Most Accidents

Fatal accidents among infants are common—and common sense can prevent them.

Mrs. Anne H. Barnard, director of the Women's Division of the National Safety Council, Chicago, knows the hazards and how to avoid them. Here is her advice to young mothers.

Accidents caused 58.9 per cent. of the deaths of children in the United States under five last year—the lowest rate on record for this age group. Mrs. Barnard says most child deaths were caused by burns and suffocation. Poisoning, drowning and falling contributed to the total of 7,912 child fatalities occurring in 1944.

She says even the safety pin is unsafe because the dangers of pricking a child or of its being swallowed. A mother so often sets a poor example by holding safety pins in her mouth while changing a diaper.

Safety pins should be stuck into the mattress or cake of soap. When not in use the pins should be closed and put out of reach of busy little hands.

A safety pin should not be used to fasten a blanket around an infant. This practice, a survey shows, is the principal cause of death by smothering.

When placing a baby in its crib, Mrs. Barnard suggests that no pillow, no fuzzy or painted toys, be placed in the bed with him. A mother should be sure the paint on the child's bed does not contain lead, lest the infant's chewing tendencies bring about lead poisoning.

Insecticides, medicines, sleeping tablets—it takes only one—deodorants and lye should be kept away from a child's reach.

Electrical appliances should be carefully checked for possible faulty connections. Electric wall outlets should be protected, and a mother should be cautious with electrical heaters when bathing a child.

Protectors should be placed around steam and hot water radiators. Mothers in rural communities should watch their babies when exposed stove are used for heating. Walkers and creepers should be kept indoors when leaves and brush are burned during the fall cleanup.

When a mother is busy in the kitchen, baby should be placed in a pen or highchair. Many children have been scalded to death because of over-fascination in mother's work.

Unprotected wells, cisterns and garden fish ponds are potential hazards.

Minutely, Mrs. Barnard says, it's a good idea not to leave a tiny tot for too long.

HEALTH AT HOME

It's easier and cheaper in the long run to use care in buying and serving food, according to nutrition experts. From the Department of National Health and Welfare comes a warning that the home where meals consist of hashed-up foods and where some of the essential elements are overlooked is likely to house an irritable, ailing brood. Fresh fruits and vegetables, Canada Approved bread and other healthful foods, will help the housewife keep the family happy and healthy.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

APPLAUSE

It is difficult to say which may be most mischievous to the human heart, the praise or the dispraise of men.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Man's first care should be to avoid the reproaches of his own heart, and next to escape the censures of the world. If the last interfere with the first it should be entirely neglected.—Addison.

Great minds had rather deserve contemporaneous applause without obtaining it, than obtain without deserving it.—Colton.

Praise from the common people is generally false, and rather follows the vain than the virtuous.—Bacon.

The silence that accepts merit as the most natural thing in the world is the highest applause.—Emerson.

WORTH TRYING

An American medical journal, urging the greater use of "psychosomatic medicine," warns doctors that they should not be content with a physical check-up of a sick patient, but should also X-ray his personality by means of asking 500 questions. The patient then gets sick of being sick and is ready to call it off.

Insulin, the remedy for diabetes, was discovered just 25 years ago.

FIRE DEVICE OF CITY MAN IS ACCLAIMED

Provincial Fire Commissioners are acclaiming the invention of W. McEwen, of Edmonton, who has perfected a device for preventing fires in the home.

It is a tiny instrument not as wide as a 12 inch ruler, technically described as a Mercury Switch, which operates a warning bell when there is an excessive rise in temperature. According to Mr. McEwen the switch can be set up in any room in the house. Bells are placed in the sleeping rooms to arouse the family in case of an outbreak of fire.

This device is being marketed by the inventor.

Shortly after Mr. McEwen's return to civilian life, having terminated five years with the R.C.A.F. in world war two, a very close friend of his in Edmonton, had the misfortune to have his home completely destroyed by fire, and his twelve year old daughter later burned to death.

Immediately following this sad occurrence, Mr. McEwen started experimental work on a device which would help prevent such terrible disasters. After nearly a year of experimental work, he was successful in developing a MERCURY TEMPERATURE SWITCH which proved to be acceptable to the fire authorities.

Mr. McEwen organized a company and opened a factory in Edmonton to manufacture this appliance and to offer it to the public through the local electrical dealers throughout the province.

FARM SUBSIDY OF BEER, WHISKY IS DENOUNCED

Wheat Board Operations Are Dictated Is Claim

Objection to the private grain grower being compelled to subsidize the manufacture of whisky and beer was made in a communication forwarded today to Prime Minister King by the North West Line Elevators Association. The letter points out that distillers of whisky and industrial alcohol are being supplied with farmers wheat by the Canadian Wheat Board on the basis of $1.25 per bushel while there is a demand in world markets for this wheat at $2.25 per bushel. At the same time the Government is forcing the sale of farmers barley to Canadian malsters at 69.24 cents per bushel when United States malsters are offering $1.75 to $1.77 for malting barley, but the Government is refusing permits to export Canadian barley to the United States.

In its letter to the Prime Minister the Line Elevator Companies charge that the policies of the Canadian Wheat Board are being dictated by the Departments of Trade and Commerce and Agriculture and that the presumably independent Wheat Board "merely does the bidding", deferring to the Wheat Board and Governmental grain policies the letter states:

"The chief executives of our Member companies have spent their life time in the grain business and it is reasonable to assume the expert knowledge they have acquired concerning the handling and marketing of grain justifies them in speaking as they do now with some authority on government policy in respect to the grain products of Western Canada, but it is strange to find the responsible departments of your government are supremely indifferent to any expression of opinion from them on marketing policies. It is an erroneous presumption, and will prove a decidedly expensive one to Western farmers to mistake ideological theories for practical solutions of grain handling and marketing problems. As an illustration, the Wheat Board was set up as a stabilizing factor. It is true that, during the war, of necessity its powers and activities were greatly widened. There is, however, little evidence now of an intention to revert back to the fundamental principle upon which a Wheat Board can operate with success. Furthermore from the legislative authority under which the Wheat Board operates, one would presume that organization to be an independent body. It is however, apparent its policies are dictated by the Department of Trade and Commerce and by the department of Agriculture, and that it merely does their bidding. We are not expressing either criticism or annoyance at the enormous network of red tape that has of necessity been built up during the war by the Wheat Board, but on behalf of the Western farmer and private enterprise we do view with concern the evident tendency to maintain and increase this monopolistic control of all grains and grain handling activities to the detriment of the Western farmer."

The Line Elevators urge that the initial payment to farmers for the 1946 wheat crop be raised to $1.80 per bushel; that the ceiling prices on barley and oats be raised to 92 cents and 73 cents, respectively, plus payments from the equalization fund on exports and a premium on malting barley. Discontinuance of the sale of grain for domestic human and animal consumption and to distillers and malsters at less than world values is advocated. The Line Elevators also urge discontinuance of federal freight subsidies to Eastern and B.C. feeders which to date has cost the Dominion Government $73 million dollars.

Totalitarianism stops in when more and more people take less and less responsibility for their country.

There are two ceilings to human progress—"I won't" and "I can't"

The answer to "divide and conquer" is "change and unite".

Still On The Job

Women Continue To Keep Sharp Eye On Price Control

One thing about women, when they have been given a job to do they stick it out to the end.

A recent Quebec tour convinced Corinne de la Durantaye, assistant director of the consumer branch of the prices board, that both French and English-speaking Canadian women are keeping as sharp an eye on prices and shortages as they did during the war.

"I never thought women as a whole could be so interested in economy problems," said the assistant director, as she told of the crowded meetings where not only the housewives, but business and professional women, came to ask questions connected with shortages and price control.

Series Of Pictures Showing Britain's Achievement In The Industrial World

The story of Britain's rehabilitation and reconstruction is to be shown to the world in a series of some 169 documentary films. These will be sponsored by the Films Division of the Government's Central Office of Information at an annual cost of $3,000,000. The most important subjects to be treated by these documentaries now planned cover Britain's hydro electric achievements, developments in radio and television, shipbuilding, civil aircraft and scientific instrument making. A monthly film magazine, "This Is Britain", is also issued, featuring three items, one of which has an industrial angle wherever possible.

The films are distributed through two channels — non-commercially through the United Kingdom Governments' various overseas information services and commercially through the best available trade channels.

Happy since she lost her "Middle-Age Spread"

Found Relief From Constipation

This middle-aged woman had two big worries. She was putting on weight and she was constipated. She read about Kruschen, and it gave her new hope. After three months on Kruschen, she wrote this letter:—

"I had been constipated for some time. Like so many people, I began taking purgatives which in the end only made the constipation worse. Three months ago, I saw an advertisement for Kruschen Salts which gave me new hope. I thought, this is just what I need. I not only bought a bottle, and have been taking Kruschen every morning since. I can tell you now of the benefit received. I no longer suffer with constipation, and because I am more active, the 'middle-age spread', which was worrying me has completely vanished. I seem to have double the energy I used to have." — (Mrs.) A. W.

Constipation and an increasing waistline often indicate a slowing down of inner and outer activity. And when energy and enthusiasm fade too!

Kruschen's part is to assist inner organs to be normally active—to clear out the waste matter that can drag down the system. Then how much better you feel. You are active again and unwanted pounds do not gain on you. Try the Kruschen treatment for constipation. 25c and 75c at your drug store.

Newspapers Still Best Media For Advertising

Bureau Of Statistics Give Summary Of Figures

Newspapers still are the best advertising media in Canada, according to a report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics which, summarizing the activities of 47 advertising agencies in 1945, reveals that of the total billings 65.6 per cent represented advertising in newspapers, magazines and other printed matter.

Radio advertising accounted for only 19.6 per cent of the billings while the remaining 14.8 per cent represented advertising expenditures in other media.

The survey covered agencies of the type which contract for space, radio or other advertising media and which place the advertising for clients on a commission or fee basis.

The total billings for the year 1945 reported by these agencies amounted to $42,471,233, an increase of 15 per cent over the $36,944,785 reported by 41 agencies in 1944 and 45.3 per cent over the figure reported by 49 agencies in 1941.

Agencies whose annual billings amounted to over $2,500,000 reported 62.2 per cent of their billings for advertising in various types of publications.

Disappears Again

Falcon Island In South Pacific Has Been Rising And Sinking For Years

AUCKLAND, N.Z.—That jack-in-the-box island in the South Pacific is gone again.

The crew of a New Zealand government motor vessel, the Maui Pomare, reported that they passed the spot where barren, uninhabited Falcon Island, in the Tonga (Friendly) group was supposed to be, but it wasn't there.

The island, which has been rising and sinking in the sea ever since its discovery 80 years ago, is—or was—350 miles from the island of Niuefo, where a volcano erupted recently and possibly caused Falcon to sink.

First observed as a reef in 1865, Falcon disappeared and reappeared through the years until in 1927 violent eruptions resulted in the formation of an island 360 feet high. Geologists landed there in 1928 and found it composed mainly of ash and rock.

NOT HELPING MUCH

The Vancouver Daily Province says that despite all the warnings of our better sense, we still can't seem to find any better remedy for the high cost of living than doing something that is bound to make it higher.

"No no, Carrymore! You were supposed to rescue Miss Alford—not the crisp, crunchy, delicious Grape-Nuts Flakes!"

"Sorry, Mr. De Bill—but when I saw these malty-rich, sweet-as-a-nut Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes floating around out there, I guess I got carried away!"

"Well put 'em down over here near me. I could do with some of those carbohydrates for energy; proteins for muscle; phosphorus for teeth and bones; iron for the blood; and other food essentials."

"It's the two grins in Grape-Nuts Flakes that give you all that goodness. Wheat and malted barley are skillfully blended, baked and then toasted for golden crispness, tempting flavor and easy digestion."

"Let's re-take this scene quick and get home for a couple of bowls!"

SCHOOL RECESSES

Need for strict observance of breaks in class routine in school is the subject of a pronouncement from the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa. The health officers point out that recesses should be observed carefully. Class rooms should be given a chance to air, and both teacher and pupil given the benefit of a short spell of freedom from instruction and study.

Increase Seen In Production Of Commodities

OTTAWA.—The labor department said that in the wake of recent strike settlements the outlook of Canadian industry is "optimistic" and predicted early "stimulated" increases in steel, electrical apparatus, automobile, rubber, chemical and brass production.

Of 26,000 workers involved in disputes at Oct. 1, all but about 700 now had returned to work.

"An extensive flow of goods (soon) will close the general demand-supply gap and relieve inflationary pressure," a department news release said. "The heavy consumer demand for all types of goods will probably maintain manufacturing employment in the next few months, thus offsetting its normal seasonal decline."

The over-all situation had changed greatly since October, 1945. Since then the Dominion's economy had absorbed "thousands" of war workers and more than 600,000 veterans. Unemployment now was "less than three per cent. of the labor force."

"In the industrial regions of Quebec and Ontario, employment conditions show a marked improvement over those of October, 1945. The trend of activity in the seasonally-affected prairies and Pacific regions shows a steady recovery from the post-war low in the spring of 1940 to a level slightly above that of October, 1945."

"Unplaced applicants registered with the national employment service Oct. 31 totalled 134,000, a decrease of 8,000 from the Sept. 30 total. The latest figure was 26,000 less than at July 31."

Most jobs were found in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes, due to strike settlements and expansion in the logging industry. Unemployment increased in the prairies during October and remained stable on the Pacific coast.

At the end of October there were 133,000 unfilled vacancies in the Dominion, a 9,000 reduction from the total of 142,000 at Sept. 30.

Unplaced applicants and unfilled vacancies (in brackets) in western national employment service offices at Oct. 31: Calgary, 2,681 (958); Edmonton, 2,358 (2,206); Regina, 925 (565); Saskatoon, 1,479 (554); Winnipeg, 7,111 (3,525); Fort William, Ont., 813 (1,850); New Westminster, B.C., 1,572 (444); Vancouver, 11,818 (3,200); Victoria, 1,900 (603).

POLAR EXPEDITION

Four Thousand U.S. Navy Men To Accompany Rear Admiral Byrd

WASHINGTON.—The navy is sending 4,000 men with Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd to the Antarctic this winter to train under harsh polar conditions.

The expedition includes representatives of the army air and ground forces, branches of defence which have had stiff tests in the frozen north, together with scientists.

Navy officials said at a press conference 13 ships will carry the force leaving next month with one of its specific objectives to "consolidate and develop" the results of the Byrd expedition of 1939-41.

The officers discounted reports that a hunt for uranium, ingredient for atom bombs, was a prime intention, although they explained the expedition would be interested in any minerals discovered—and that uranium is a mineral.

Admiral Byrd disclosed that the Russians had an expedition "going down but we haven't much information on that."

Vice-Admiral Forrest Sherman, deputy chief of naval operations, was asked if one of the purposes was to stake out American claim to territory. He replied:

"The purpose of this expedition is primarily the training of naval units, and any effects these operations might have on the balance of conflicting claims to territories will be incidental only."

Admiral Byrd added his own statement that "this nation doesn't recognize any claims down there—and hasn't made any claims itself."

TRADE AGREEMENT

Britain And Russia Negotiating On Large Scale

LONDON.—Great Britain and Russia are negotiating a large scale trade agreement and Russia is now considering specific suggestions offered by the British delegates, well informed sources said.

According to reports, the proposed agreement would be on a much wider scale than previous arrangements between Britain and Russia.

It was understood that Russia had not asked for credit as a basis for purchase of goods in this country but must be prepared to supply goods in exchange, along with a relatively small payment in gold.

Russian delegates have indicated, informants said, that they are especially interested in getting from Britain machinery, electrical engineering equipment and machine tools.

ELECTRONIC PIANOS DEVELOPED IN VANCOUVER—Vancouver technicians, utilizing a magnetic principle never before embodied in a musical instrument, have produced an electronic piano. Instead of wire strings, it has tuned bars of magnetized steel as thick as a pencil set solidly in a heavy casting. When a bar is struck by a heavily-padded mallet, no mechanical sound is produced, but the slight vibration sets up a moving magnetic field which cuts across a coil of wire, inducing an electric current in the coil. Amplified, the current drives a speaker. Piano never needs tuning.

Sugar Rationing To Be Reviewed By Food Council

OTTAWA.—Whether Canadians will get a material increase in sugar for their tea, coffee, "cokes", ice cream, jellies, jams, cakes and cookies and candies in 1947 depends on a meeting the end of this month of the International Emergency Food Council at Washington, D.C.

The council replaces the wartime combined food board managed by the United States, United Kingdom and Canada. The new council numbers some twenty different nations not including Russia which refused to join.

In 1945, the allotment of sugar per person by the combined food board among the three countries was 70.8 pounds per person.

In 1946, the allotment was increased to 72.8 pounds per person.

In 1947 it is hoped the allotment will be raised to as much as at least 75 pounds per person, and possibly to 80 pounds. That would still be about 18 pounds less per person annually than Canadians and Americans used in pre-war years when the per capita consumption of the two countries was around 98 pounds.

In 1939, Canada was using about 1,000,000,000 pounds of cane and beet sugar. The 1946 allotment of sugar to Canada by the combined food board was 504,000 tons which, on the basis of 2,000 pounds (short tons) would mean 1,008,000,000 pounds, equivalent to pre-war consumption. But in the interim, there has been a tremendous increased demand per capita for sugar due to increased public purchasing power plus also some increase in population.

Any increase in the allotment to Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom by the International Emergency Food Council will be largely due to revival of beet sugar growing in Europe. Before the war, Europe was largely self-sufficient in sugar from this domestic source. The war cut it off. But European sugar beet growing is rapidly coming back.

Canada has also greatly increased beet sugar production from the pre-war five-year average, 1935-39, of 141,700,000 pounds to an average of close to 180,000,000 pounds average for the last six years.

Estimates of Canada's 1946 beet sugar production indicate a total of 194,500,000 to 199,500,000 pounds.

Two hundred million pounds of beet sugar is only from a quarter to a fifth of Canada's wartime rationed sugar use. For example, in 1945, whereas beet sugar production was 165,000,000 pounds, Canada imported 846,700,000 pounds of raw sugar; total available refined sugar including beet sugar and net imports or exports, was 980,400,000 pounds and actual domestic sales of refined sugar were 886,100,000 pounds.

All world sugar production is pooled. In 1946, the United States and her island possessions contributed 61 per cent. of the quota, the United Kingdom 25 per cent. and Canada 18 per cent.

STILL DECLINING

Butter Production During October Dropped Almost Nine Per Cent

OTTAWA.—Production of creamery butter in Canada during October dropped to 21,807,000 pounds from the 23,926,000 pounds produced in October, 1945, down almost nine per cent., the Dominion bureau of statistics reported.

All provinces shared in the decrease, which brought cumulative output for the first 10 months of this year to 245,994,000 pounds, against 268,752,000 in the corresponding period of 1945, a decline of 8.5 per cent.

Commenting on the decline, prices board spokesmen said it still was too early to determine whether the board would have to follow last winter's course and cut the individual butter ration, at present at six ounces per person per week.

Food Crisis In Germany May Affect Britain

WASHINGTON.—Britain may have to slash rations to meet the food crisis in her zone of Germany because the American zone has little to spare, U.S. occupation officials said.

They said that while the United States has enough food in sight to maintain the daily ration of 1,550 calories in its zone for two months, it has not enough to prop the recently-raised British ration of 1,550 calories. They said Britain might even find it necessary to take in its belt at home to send more food to Germany.

U.S. occupation officials, headed by Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, and his adviser, Ambassador Robert D. Murphy, began conferences with U.S. and British government officials on economic unification of their zones.

The conferences will deal chiefly with financial and economic aspects of the merger, pending further Russian and French decisions on unification of all four zones.

Among the matters that have to be threshed out are imports needed to bolster the German economy and the distribution of German exports. This is expected to bring up the food question, with the British pressing for quick action on imports and pooling of supplies to ease their severe shortages.

The British also are said to be pressing for immediate U.S. aid to relieve the crisis in their zones and are expected to urge sharing of food by the American zone.

One U.S. official said, "You can't divide that which is deficient." Thus the British may not get much satisfaction. There is talk, however, of a wheat loan from the American zone.

NATIONAL CONTESTS

Three Western Provinces Were Successful In Winning Farm Awards

TORONTO.—Junior farm club teams representing Saskatchewan and Quebec won two each of the seven competitions at the national contests of boys' and girls' farm clubs held on the grounds of the Royal Winter Fair. Provinces successful in one contest each were British Columbia, Manitoba and Ontario.

Quebec placed first in dairy cattle and swine, Saskatchewan was tops in beef cattle, won by Craik Beef Calf club, and seed grain, taken by Norquy Seed club.

British Columbia won in the seed potato competition, with Richmond Potato club; Manitoba's Holland Poultry club came in first and the Vellere Home-making club of Ontario emerged on top in clothing projects.

Help To Make Our Homes Safe From Tuberculosis

During 1946, the Preventive Programme of the Saskatchewan Anti-Tuberculosis League was pressed with unabated zeal and results show that there can be no doubt it is succeeding in reducing tuberculosis in the province. The three mobile fluorographic units visited 157 communities where over 145,000 persons were examined at the expense of the Christmas Seal Fund. The 12 regular clinics were in operation throughout the year and family physicians were visited by the League's consultants.

Tuberculosis is needless and preventable. There is no need for tuberculosis to be No. 1 Disease Killer between the ages of 15 and 35.

If Christmas Seals have not reached you by mail you can obtain these Seals by writing to the Christmas Seal Committee at Fort San. Won't you help to continue and extend this Programme of Prevention so that this province can continue to be the safest place in the world for a child to be born.

MANLY F. MINER

The many friends of Manly Miner, president of the Jack Miner Migratory Bird Foundation of Kingsville, Ontario, will be interested in a recent honour which has come to him. At the meeting of the General Council of the United Church of Canada held in Montreal this Fall, Mr. Miner was elected to be a member of the Senate—the Board of Regents—of Alma College, St. Thomas, Ontario.

It was four years ago that Alma College honoured the late Jack Miner by establishing a Scholarship carrying his name—"The Jack Miner Scholarship"—to be awarded annually, with his granddaughter, Wilhelmina Chuklin Miner, being chosen as the first recipient.

One can thus see at a glance the very warm and kindly feeling Manly Miner would have for Alma College.

The general committee in charge of all United Church colleges can rest assured that with Mr. Miner as a member of the Alma College Senate, they have a man who will at all times, under all circumstances, give his best to further the interests of this wonderful college for girls.

RECORD CROPS

WASHINGTON.—Favored by ideal fall harvest weather in October, the United States is virtually assured its largest output of crops in history, the agriculture department reported. A record production had been forecast previously, but unusually good weather the last four weeks, which improved acreage yields of many crops, brought the prediction to realization.

South Africa To Annex Mandated Area

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y.—The Union of South Africa served notice that it will annex the mandated territory of Southwest Africa whether the United Nations general assembly approves it or not.

Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, South Africa's prime minister, threw his take-it-or-leave-it proposals into the assembly's trusteeship committee in the face of Soviet-led hostility to the South Africa proposal to take over the territory.

Southwest Africa, owned by Germany until the end of the First Great War, has been administered by South Africa since then as a League of Nations mandate.

The South African pronouncement came after Great Britain had thrown its weight behind the annexation bid.

Arthur G. Bottomley, British delegate, warmly defended the South African proposal before the United Nations trusteeship committee. Soviet Ambassador Nicolai Novikov previously had denounced the proposal as a flagrant violation of the UN charter.

Bottomley said that the UN charter did not force any nation to put its mandated territory under trusteeship and that "credit is due to the South African government" for giving other nations the opportunity of expressing any opinion on its proposal.

Bottomley said that the United Kingdom was "satisfied" with the polls taken by South Africa to determine whether the natives of Southwest Africa wanted annexation. Novikov had denounced the South Africa figures as a "fictitious demonstration."

Dimitar Vlahov, following for Yugoslavia the line laid down by Russia, told the committee that "Yugoslavia energetically opposes" the South African proposal.

"We will never permit aggression in any way," Vlahov said.

The Yugoslav echoed Novikov's assertion that the proposed annexation violated charter principles, and charged that the South African poll had been confined to tribal chieftains and thus did not reflect the wishes of the majority of the natives of Southwest Africa.

Cuba's Dr. Guy Perez Cisneros also attacked the proposal as "contrary to the letter and spirit of the charter" and urged a UN trusteeship for Southwest Africa.

Smuts flatly rejected demands by Russia and Yugoslavia and some of the smaller United Nations that Southwest Africa be placed under UN trusteeship.

"In view of the clearly expressed wishes of the inhabitants of Southwest Africa," Smuts said, "it would not be possible for the Union government to submit to a trusteeship agreement in conflict with those wishes."

United States Will Oppose Present Plan For Europe Food Fund

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y.—Reported United States opposition virtually ruled out any likelihood that the United Nations would approve a proposed $400,000,000 emergency food fund to help meet Europe's food deficits after the expiration of UNRRA.

Shortly after Dean Acheson, acting secretary of state, indicated in Washington that the United States would oppose the proposal put before the United Nations by F. H. LaGuardia, director-general of UNRRA, informed quarters said members of the United States delegation were understood to have taken the position that any further aid to Europe after the expiration of UNRRA should be handled by a national rather than an international basis.

This was interpreted as meaning that the United States would in the future handle her own relief distribution in Europe.

Under Mr. LaGuardia's proposal the United States would be expected to contribute 49 per cent. of the total $400,000,000. It was generally agreed that the plan would not be put into effect if the United States refused to take part.

AUTOMOBILE PRICES TO REMAIN AT SAME LEVEL

OTTAWA.—Announcement by General Motors corporation in Detroit of a $100 increase in the retail price of its automobiles has no direct bearing on the price of Canadian-made cars, the prices board said.

Canadians will have to pay extra on imported General Motors cars but the cost of made-in-Canada automobiles remains at the present level.

A board spokesman said that a Canadian manufacturer may increase prices only if he proves financial necessity.

SALVAGE ATTEMPT

CAPETOWN.—Attempts are being made to salvage the 8,093-ton British steamship City of Lincoln, which sank with a £2,000,000 ($8,000,000) cargo near the Cape of Good Hope after striking a rock. An inquiry is to be held concerning the wreck.

Your Radio License

Have you taken a good look at your radio license? I would if I were you. Yes, it is a good thing to have a license, but it is also a good thing to know what you are getting. The license is a piece of paper that says you are a radio licensee. It is not a license to operate a radio, but a license to own one. The license is a piece of paper that says you are a radio licensee. It is not a license to operate a radio, but a license to own one.

Every year in a while the Department of Transport issues a survey of radio licenses in the Dominion. It is a bit and piece affair the way they are collected. It should be run in a business like manner. Hundreds of people have bought a license. Take a town like Raymond. There must be all of four hundred radio sets here and I hesitate to say that over two hundred of them are licensed. A group of citizens talking the other day came up with this suggestion: Why not give one of our returned men the job of looking after radio licenses in town and pay him a liberal commission, say half. He would collect all radio licenses and he'd be giving him a job the department would collect all radio fees and in all probability the department would collect more money in the manner than the hit and miss system. The system of radio license collecting must be changed and I can think of a better method than the one suggested.

The C.B. could very easily, with the facilities at their command, bring to the attention of all that their licenses are about to expire.

I say, make radio license collecting a business if they must be collected at all.

A.M.A. RAPS SCHEME TO INSTALL METERS

Opposition to increasing the tax burdens on motorists has been expressed by the Alberta Motor Association in connection with the present move to install parking meters in some cities in the province.

The Edmonton branch of the organization is urging a survey of street parking places and enforcement of present parking regulations before adopting any such action as installing meters.

The A.M.A. suggests that enforcement of parking laws and provisions of off-street parking spaces in available vacant lots might prove the solution.

To install meters would have effect of placing a greater tax burden on motorists which would be unwarranted in the circumstances. It is claimed.

Furthermore, some of the large Canadian cities notably Toronto and Montreal have not found it advisable to install meters, but have found the solution in enforcing parking regulations.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

DISCOVERY

By LORNE BALSLEY

Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

THE silence in the second grade room became terrible. In desperation Junior drew a long breath and started out stumbly. "I—found—I—was—on—a—" He hesitated again and listened for the silence. "—is—and", he tried doubtfully pronouncing the "is" with a short "I".

"My goodness," old Miss Carson rasped out. "I thought every boy knew what Robinson Crusoe was wrecked on." She paused dreadfully, then corrected, "Island".

He sat down suddenly, hot tears trying to creep out. He heard some one snicker, but he dreaded to look. He did not know who Robinson Crusoe was. He did not know what he had read. For that matter, he never knew what he read. Although for days the rest of the class and he had been reading from books and the blackboard, the words meant nothing. He would look at the page with its large black type, and feel the shiny paper under his hand, but he was not conscious that those words had anything to do with life as he knew it. F-o-u-n-d was in the book, and if he made the noise "found" the teacher was satisfied. That "found" was something that actually happened, never occurred to him. It was just a sound.

The bell cut short his thoughts. He scampered out with the rest, but he did not want to play, though there had been a fresh fall of snow and the boys were planning a snowball fight. He wanted to get home, because he felt, inside, like his foot felt when the shoe rubbed the heel. So he went straight home to the living room, and climbed into the big chair, and tried to think.

He could hear Mother, working in the kitchen. The noise disturbed him vaguely. Then, too, the events of the afternoon kept coming back.

He jumped up and went to the bookcase. Mother read to him a little each night, and in the last three years he had had stories in his books read many times over. He knew them all by heart, but at each reading they seemed new again. When mother read, it was not a lot of sounds like in school, but a succession of pictures like a movie. It was as if he were standing right there, and seeing the boys and girls, houses and ships, animals and birds. It was exciting and thrilling.

He selected a large book, the most thumbed of the lot, and carried it confidently to the kitchen. "Mother", he said, "please read to me".

But mother was busy at the stove.

"Not now, dear," she said.

Again baffled, Junior wandered back to the living room and stretched out on the rug, tummy down, the book before him. The cover was bright with color and interesting. He turned the pages and looked at the pictures. He stopped at a full page illustration showing a goat with a long white beard and great twisted horns. On the same page, lower down, were a cat and a dog.

The goat was familiar. He was the hero of several of the books, and Junior had seen him so often in his mental-movie-picture-show that every detail was old and friendly.

The caption at the bottom caught his eye. "Just some more printing like in school," he thought, looking at it contemptuously. Suddenly the beginning of it began to stand out clearer. It almost seemed to leap up. It said: "Beardie—"

Beardie? Beardie? Why, Beardie was the name of the goat in the story! Junior had often seen him in his moving pictures. And, of course, the goat in his mind looked just like the goat in the picture. The picture goat was right above the printing which said, "Beardie". So the printing, the picture in the book, and his own moving picture were all the same thing!

Junior was interested. He looked at the printing again. It said, "Beardie and his friends." Then he understood. The dog and the cat were the goat's friends. He had often seen them before, too.

His eye wandered to the page opposite which was filled with large type. Suddenly, near the top, there stood out "Beardie", again. For a moment there flashed into Junior's mind an exact picture of the goat, beard and all. He went on "Beardie—ran—up—the—gangplank." He hesitated on "gangplank". The word was just a lot of type, and yet it had a familiar sound. Then, as in a dream, he heard his mother's voice reading, "Beardie ran up the gangplank."

Now it was no longer sound, it was picture! Long ago Junior's father had taken him on a boat ride. As they were going on board Junior had been very much interested in the pathway leading into the large boat, and had asked, "Papa, what's this?" And Papa had indulgently answered: "This is a gangplank."

So Junior knew what a gangplank was, and he read on. But it was no longer reading, no longer a succession of type and sounds, and jeers from the teacher when he got the wrong sounds and the wrong type together. It was a series of real moving pictures, and he was watching it, living it. It would jump and jerk and flicker, and sometimes come to a stop altogether when Junior came to an unfamiliar word. When this happened he would start the picture back a little ways, and, as he approached the place where he had stopped before, he would speed up, and perhaps the picture would continue right across the gap. Or, if it stopped again, he would simply jump over the gap and take the picture up on the other side. The first time he tried it, Junior was afraid the picture would not start up again, but it did, just as nicely as before.

Suddenly the book came to an end. Junior, startled, blinked his eyes. The room was almost dark, the afternoon had gone.

"Why, Junior!" said Mother coming into the room. "You mustn't look at those pictures in the dark. You'll hurt your eyes."

Junior didn't care about his eyes. He was wondering where the afternoon had gone.

"Come", said Mother. "Put away the book and wash up for supper."

Junior got up slowly and waited to the bookcase. "Where did the afternoon go?" he kept wondering. "It must have gone into the book," he concluded, repining it on the shelf.

He thought of school, but the smart was gone, and he looked at the shelf with new interest. There were twelve or fifteen books on it.

"Gee", he thought. "What a lot of afternoon!"

Canada's Shortening Supply Seen Improving

Manufacturers Are Asked To Step Up Production

OTTAWA.—Shortening, which has been in drastically short supply in Canada for months, is expected to improve markedly during the next six weeks, prices board officials said.

Manufacturers have been asked to produce on a basis of 100 per cent. of their 1941 performance.

In addition, a large shipment of shortening—from Argentina, which Canada obtained during October and which was held up at New York due to a longshoremen's strike, started to arrive in Canada recently.

Officials stated it was not certain exactly how these factors would affect the situation, but said they believed the shortening picture would be "brightened considerably" in a few weeks, barring unforeseen developments.

CANADA WORLD'S LARGEST EXPORTER OF WHEAT

Most of the world's wheat production is consumed near where it is grown, so that only about one-tenth or 650 million bushels moves overseas into what is called international trade. The greatest wheat producing country is China which grows about one billion one hundred million bushels a year. Russia comes second, with an average of one billion bushels a year. The United States is third, with an average around 900 million bushels a year, and Canada is usually fourth, with more than 400 million on the average. While Canada is but the fourth largest wheat producer in the world, she holds a distinguished place. She is the largest exporter of wheat and produces the highest quality wheat. This quality in the past has always given Canada an advantage over her competitors.

Some Big Tunnels

One Between Switzerland And Italy Is Longest For Traffic Purposes

One of the many thrilling experiences of Canadians who make a holiday or business trip to the Pacific coast is to behold the ingenuity of the engineers who built and designed the Connaught tunnel, which pierces the Selkirk. It is 5.02 miles in length and its construction shortened the railway line 4.3 miles. It was commenced in 1913 and finished in 1916.

South African engineers have started the construction of a tunnel which will be eight miles in length to improve the railway line between Cape Town and Johannesburg. Work on the first of four tunnels is underway. When they are completed the result will be to straighten out one of the most tortuous railway sections in the Union. They will also mean a saving equivalent to 13 complete circles which trains now have to make on their way up and down the Hex River Mountains.

No estimate is available of the cost of the South African tunnels, but the Connaught tunnel through the Selkirk summit cost approximately $6 1/2 million to construct. Most of the long tunnels in the world are used in water supply systems. The great Simplon tunnel, which connects Switzerland and Italy, is probably the longest used for traffic purposes. It is 12.45 miles in length. The Pennsylvania Railroad tunnel connecting New Jersey and Long Island is 11.7 miles. The Hudson and Manhattan tunnel is 8.5 miles in length.

The tea plant is indigenous to South East Asia and it was hundreds of years until the Chinese knew of its existence.

Lucky Dog

Wire-haired Terrier To Have The Care Of A Nurse

VICTORIA.—In a swank suburban home, a wire-haired terrier will spend its declining years on a $1,000 a year income.

A nurse will care for the dog's needs, and she will get a salary of $75 a month plus the $1,000 annual income for the five-year-old terrier. On his death, the nurse, Miss A. M. Cartwright, will receive $5,000.

This is all provided for in the will of Mrs. Charles J. V. Spratt, who when her husband died some years ago took over his shipyard and operated it during the war years. Wealthy Mrs. Spratt had no close relatives, and she directed that the house should not be sold while the terrier lives.

A FRIEND INDEED

NEW YORK.—The adage that a friend in need is a friend indeed had an international application and a strange twist for Julia Snyder, who sent a friend in Holland a carton of cigarettes when he heard that smokes were selling for $3 a package on the Dutch black market. Recently he heard from his friend in Europe: "Hear you have shortages too. Sugar is rationed here... but we are able to help our 'rich uncle in America' by sending him three kilos (six and a half pounds) of sugar, which is now on the way."

A RARE STAMP

A rare Nova Scotia one-shilling (20 cents) stamp brought $90 ($360) at a dealers auction in London. The stamp, printed in 1851 incorporated the royal crown and heraldic flowers of the United Kingdom.
